Superball Inc. and The Orchard Announce Global Distribution Agreement

Tokyo, Japan – May 23, 2025 — Superball Inc. ("Superball") is pleased to announce the signing of a global distribution agreement with The Orchard, a global music distributor under Sony Music. The agreement targets artists from Japan and the ASEAN region, enabling worldwide digital distribution through The Orchard's extensive network.

Through this partnership, Superball now has the infrastructure to globally distribute music via platforms such as Apple Music, Spotify, and YouTube Music. The first release under this agreement will be the highly anticipated new single by Quadlips, titled "Wings Grow Back", scheduled for worldwide release on Wednesday, May 28, 2025.

Quadlips to Release New Single "Wings Grow Back" on May 28

Quadlips is a next-generation Asian girl group comprised of four current members from AKB48's overseas sister groups. Active across Japan and ASEAN, the group represents a new wave of talent and cultural diversity. Their upcoming single, "Wings Grow Back," blends street style with emotional depth to create an anthem symbolizing the passion of Asian youth.

Quadlips Members:

- FENI (JKT48 / Leader / Jakarta)
- HINA (SKE48 / Nagoya)
- FAME (BNK48 / Bangkok)
- COLE (MNL48 / Manila)

The group debuted globally in March 2024 with the single "Catch Me Kiss Me," gaining attention for their multilingual performance abilities and multicultural presence.
